

Longevity Lifestyle Matters Application Form: Certified Facilitator

I have read the Six Steps to Certification and am applying to become a LLM Certified Facilitator to present the brain-based 12-week program. I understand certification can be accomplished using paperbacks and other materials, some of which may be provided electronically. To be a LLM CF I understand that I must:

- Complete and sign this application, scan and email to Dr. Taylor at: thebrain@arlenetaylor.org
- Purchase (or have purchased for me) a one-time LLM CF Packet that includes certification fee and access to forms and materials needed to present a LLM program - $389.97 US.

Upon receipt of the application form, an authorized LLM designee will contact you to arrange for payment and for release of the necessary proprietary materials. Once the materials have been released, fees are non-refundable—except in the case of life-threatening illness that will prevent you from being a LLM CF and with return of all materials. PayPal and credit cards are accepted.
